Andy is our senior Colourist and a founding director of the company.

Creative and enthusiastic, he began his career as an offline editor, then online editor and has now been grading exclusively for over 10 years.

He works in all genres, completing our first 4K drama feature in late 2018, the first project to run through our new Baselight 2 suite, one of the most powerful systems in the country.

He graded the BAFTA award winning 'Basquiat: Rage to Riches' documentary for the BBC and two of the winning programmes in the 2019 Broadcast Awards, one of which was the Emmy Award-winning "The Fight for Mosul", directed by Olivier Sarbil. A keen stills photographer Andy has huge experience with both documentary and drama productions and draws on his offline and online editing skills to ensure the most efficient outcome; both technically and creatively.
